

KAVINDU SATHSARA b. 1998

Kavindu Sathsara is a contemporary painter based in Colombo, Sri Lanka. He holds a BFA (Hons) in Painting from the University of the Visual & Performing Arts.

Recognized for his semi-abstract oil paintings and mixed media works, Sathsara explores domestic violence, women's endurance, silence, and inner strength from a feminist perspective. Through rough brushstrokes, expressive textures, and emotionally driven color palettes, his work focuses on the emotional power and resilience of women in contemporary society.

Influenced by personal experiences and social realities, his paintings honor the quiet strength women carry while enduring hardship with dignity and grace. He has exhibited in group shows at JDA Perera Gallery, Barefoot Gallery, Radicle Gallery, and Lionel Wendt Art Gallery in Colombo.
